

ALEXANDRIA.

FRIDAY EVENING, NOVEMBER 18.

GOVERNOR LEE strikes the right note, and puts himself in thorough accord with most of the self and section respecting people of the South, when he says, as reported in the Richmond Disputch of yesterday:

"A curious condition of things exists in this common country of ours. All Southern democrats are confidently expected to vote as they have been doing for the past twenty years, for any Northern men for President and Vice-President whose names may be proposed, but it is too much to expect, we are told, that all Northern democrats will vote for a Southern democrat."

The war between the States has now been over and gone nearly twenty three years, during all of which time the South has paid her just share of the expenses of the government, and a party proclaimed to be national, not sectional, is the governing party of the country, and has elected an administration said to be in accord with it, and that administration is now conducting the affairs of the nation. The democrats of the South supplied three-fourths of the electoral votes that elected the present democratic administration, and must supply an equal number of those required to elect the next one. If the expressions of reconciliation, confidence and esteem so profise among Northern democrats in respect of the South and of her leading men, be sincere, so far from objecting to a Southern man for Vice President, they should insist upon the nomination of one for that office. Of Southern democrats who object to such a nomination lest it may weaken the party in the North, nothing is to be said. Their objection determines their character abroad as well as at home.

THE RETAIL coal dealers in the North express the belief that the price of coal may mivance to $7 a ton. This is the result of the recent strikes in the coal mines. The protected ow; ers of the coal mines take advantage of the strikes to advance the price of ceal to extertionate rates. The strikers are few in number, but the poor people who consume the coulare many. The former, after nearly s arving themselves and their families, usually resume work at their old wages The latter, by the irc eased cost of their fuel, add to the large profits of the owners of the coal mines. But such thoughts never seem to enter the heads of the men whose strikes affect the well being of thousands of other people poorer than themselves.

SIX MONTHS have hardly elapsed since the anarchist Most, of New York, was re lessed from jail, in which he had been im prisoned for incendiary speeches, and yet he has again been arrested and imprisoned for the same offense. This shows that mild punishment has no effect upon acarchism. The arrest of Most in New York shows an other thing-the vicissitudes of time. The arrest of abolitionists in the South before the war for making incendiary speeches to the negroes was denounced throughout the entire North. But almost as great an evil now threatens the North as that which Brown and his instigators would have inflicted upon the South.

THE RESULT of the recent election in this supposed to be. It was so utter and irretrievable that it has turned the General's head, and made him write a wild letter to the chairman of the national republican committee, in which he accuses the democrats of "robbing" him of a majority of the Virginia House of Delegates, and bemoaus the absence of federal supervisors of election, "to check the foul work of the democratic machine." This shows that those whom the gods have destroyed, as well as those whom they wish to destroy, they first make

THE STATEMENT made by Dr. McGlynn that the forty thousand voters who deserted the George side show last week did so for a pecuniary consideration, proves one of two things: either that that statement is a gross slander upon the voters to whom Dr. Mc Glynn refers, equal to the one he made upon the Sisters of Charity, whose garb, be said, was their only evidence of purity, or else that these particular voters tearing terrible gashes in the flesh the enhand better, for any party, be out of tire length of his body and half an inch than in it. BURNING OF A LAKE STEAMER.-The steamer Arizons, of the Lake Superior Transit line, was burned to the water's edge at Marquette, Mich., yesterday. She left that port at nine o'clock Wednesday night, bound for Portage, and carrying a full cargo of merchandise. When out thirty miles a heavy sea was encounted, and the boat was ad about to come back to Marquette. When she was still five miles out, the boat commenced rolling heavily, whereupon a tank of acid began leaking and set the boat on fire. Nothing could be done to put out the flames, every man being driven from his post by the fumes of the acid. There being a good head of steam on, the boat kept on moving, the wheelman managing to retain his position. A boat was lowered and ready for receiving the mee, in case they could not make the harbor, but the steamer round ed the breakwater at 4:30 yesterday morn ing, running close enough to enable the crew to jump off. After the boat was abandoned she ran into the shore at the government pier and was soon a mass of flames. The fire department was called out but could do nothing to save the vessel, and she soon burned down to the water's edge. The Arizona was a freight boat, valued at about $100,000. She was on her last trip for

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 18, 1887. Mr. Carlisle says the abolition of the to-bacco tax, not including that on cigars and eigarettes, would only reduce the revenue to the amount of about twenty million dollars, Tuesday. while the required diminution is eighty million, and that the democrats will not agree to the removal of that tax unless a reduction to the amount of at least sixty million be made in the tariff on the necessaries of life and on raw material.

The only effect on Norfolk, he said, that would have been produced by the change was that would have been produced by the change.

The court of appeals vesterday decided. would have been a reduction in the salary of one of the officers in the customs house of that city, but the change would have been beneficial to the commerce of Newport News, inasmuch as at present every master of a vessel at that port has to lose a day in going to Norfolk for his clearance papers. Mr. Barbour, he said, was not the sort of man to let private feelings operate upon his public actions.

Mr. Ike Hill, assistant sergeant-at arms of the U.S. House of Representatives, and a member of the State democratic committee of Obio, has just arrived from that State. He says the causes of the increased republican majority there at the recent election were the laber vote, nine tenths of which came from the democratic party, the tem-perance vote, nearly all of which came from the same party, as the republican temper-ance men voted the republican ticket, and a national cause which in view of existing circumstances it is better to say nothing about, at least at present.

Senator Barbour.

The general impression here is that Mr. Barbour will receive the unanimous vote of the democratic members, and will, therefore, be elected to serve in the Senate for

of the democratic party in Virginia. All the luck they have had for the last seven or eight years was when he was personally managing their ca paigns for them. Were they to be so ungrateful as to turn him down again they would not deserve to succeed in the future. But we do not think there is any danger of that. So far as we have heard any expression of public opinion it is unanimously in favor of making him United States Senator to succeed Riddle berger. It is not probable that he will have any opposition, and he certainly ought no to have. We have many men just as able and just as worthy of the position as Mr. Barbour, but circumstances make it pecu harly appropriate to confer the honor upon bim at this time .- Richmond Whig

There are a dozen public men in Virginia who would adorn the position of United States Senator, and represent Virginia with dignity and ability, but by common consent and approval Mr. Barbour, who has successfully conducted several campaigns against the greatest efforts of the opposition and who so wisely and attentively represented his District in Congress for several terms, and is familiar with all the needs of his State, heads the list and should receive the nomination on the first ballot, and unanimously,-Norfolk Landmark.

A Mysterious Death.

DETROIT, Nov. 18. - Capt. A. H. Mills, an old citizen and prominent vessel man and the owner of a line of harbor tugs of this city, shot and killed Mrs. Austin Rising, wife of his manager, at her residence, on Congress street, about nine o'clock last night. Mills then went home, locked himself in his room and shot himself through the head, death resulting almost instantly Capt. Mills, who is a widower is said to have been infatuated with the woman and, becoming involved in financial difficulties, chose the above desperate way to free him self from trouble. LATER.

DETROIT, Mich., Nov. 18.-The supposed suicide of Capt. A. H. Mil's, a well known vessel man, last night, preceded by his alleged murder of Mre. Austin Rising, wife of the manager of the captain's own tug line, has more to it apparently than was at first sup posed. Rising, the husband of the dead wo man, is under arrest, and it is by no means a certainty that Capt. Mills was not murdered and was innocent of the death of Mrs. Rising. Capt. Mills was formerly the owner of the largest tug line in this city, but a short time ago his son obtained possession of a portion of his vessels and started an opposition line. In a short time Mrs. Mills died, and the captain was appointed executor of her estate. He lived in good style, and, as his three daughters thought, extravagantly, and a short time ago they petitioned the court to remove him from his position. The court granted the petition, and C. J. Berry, a lawyer, was appointed in his place. Yesterday Berry made affidavit that Capt. Mills was holding back part of the property. Last evening Berry called on Mills, and was leaving the house, after a stormy interview, when a pistol shot was heard. It is c'aimed that he committed suicide, but as the bullet wound is on the left side of his head, back of the ear, suspicions of foul play were aroused. A new complication was added to the suicide when later in the night the dead body of Mrs. Austin Rising, wife of the manager of Capt. Mills' tug line, was found in her bedroom on East Congress street, but a few blocks from the Mills residence. It has long been a matter of rumor that Captain Mills was un duly familiar with his manager's wife. During the afternoon he telephoned to Mr. Rising that he wanted to see him about the tugs and would meet him on the dock at 7 o'clock. Immediately afterward the captain went to Mrs. Rising's residence. Shortly after he was seen to rush out of the Rising residence and hasten home. About State Returning Board, composed of the 3:30 o'clock Mr. Rising went home with a male companion and the two drank very freely of whiskey. Policemen Mulholland, hearing the noise, looked through the blinds and saw Rising after drinking pick up a lamp and go into his wife's bedroom. He came out immediately and the two men, af ter taking another drink, went to Capt Mills' residence. Rising returned home alone about 10:30 and going into his wife's room for the first time found her dead body. She lay on the hed with her head riddled with bullets and her blood and brains scat tered over the floor and walls. He rushed out and shouted for help. Officer Mulhol land came up and arrested Rising on suspicion of baying killed his wife. The body was already cold, showing that she had been dead some hours. The mystery is deepened by the testimony of Capt. Stone THE RICHMOND Dispatch says "no body will be of the steam yacht Leila, that Mills had a ment which he said she had made with an
